EVERY MAN TO BE HIS OWN MOONSHINER

"OLDTIMERS" DIG UP RECIPES AND "KITCHEN STILLS" ARE TO BE NUMEROUS

Washington, Feb. 4.—Every man his own moonshiner—so simple a child can make it.

This is the impression one gains after talking with occupants of the "moonshiners' hench in the national capital. Although five months remain before war-time prohibition becomes effective—after which the Constitutional Amendment will become effective, probably without giving mooners a breathing space—Washingtonians, at last, appear to be fortifying themselves with weird formulas for the concoction of various "kitchen stills" and "moonshiners' hench." And it is not improbable that Washington is no exception.

For instance, you meet one of the old-timers on Pennsylvania avenue. You exchange cordialities with him. He weeps conspicuously as he waits a regular for the good old days when "personal liberty" was simply lying around loose in slippers, waiting to be picked up. But in the midst of the dirge his face lights up with an expression not unlike that of the drowning man who sights a life-belt floating within his reach.

"Say," he confides, "I got something here I'm gonna try. Sounds pretty good. And surprisingly he draws forth from his wallet the magic formula. As a rule it runs along something like this:

"Take two pounds of corn meal and put it in a stone jug. Then put in a pound of brown sugar, eleven raisins, a cake of yeast and a dash of Jamaica ginger. Fill the jug with water, put a stone on the cork and bury it in the backyard in the dark of the moon. Let it stay for three weeks and it's then ready to serve."

"And they say," is the usual comment of the old-timer, "that it's got a kick that'll make an army mule blush for shame."

There are many and varied of these recipes floating around, and it is said that the Government officials upon whom will develop the responsibility of enforcing the prohibition laws already are laying their lines for raids on "kitchen stills."

But if the resultant concoctions are as deadly as the formulas might indicate, there is a reason to believe that they will have no effect. And that the problem, "What shall we do with our ex-bartenders?" can be easily solved. The answer is:

"Make undertakers of 'em."

WAR WORK INCREASES PEACE WORK AT "Y.W."

The war work done by the Young Women's Christian Association has multiplied the opportunities for constructive work by that organization. Since the armistice was signed the local associations in the larger cities of the state are visited daily by large numbers of people who hardly realized that there was such a thing as the "Y. W." until they were introduced to the Hostess Houses at the different army camps. Their reception at these Hostess Houses was so pleasant and the assistance rendered by the women in charge so practical, that now the natural thing to do is to rely upon the local associations in Atlanta, Macon, Columbus, Savannah or Augusta when competent, practical advice is wanted by the girl or woman who finds herself in either of these cities.

If a girl goes to Atlanta to work, she has only to indicate a desire, and she will be met at the train, taken either to the Young Women's Christian Association, or to some other place where she will be assured of friendly attention and the same safety that she would have in her own home. She may, if she likes, spend her leisure hours in comfortably furnished club rooms at the local headquarters. In short, she is among friends from the moment she arrives.

In fact, the great majority of girls and women taking advantage of the conveniences offered by the organization are from this country and smaller towns of the state. The girls that live in the city already have their own homes and their own friends.

That is the reason the Young Women's Christian Association is asking each county in Georgia to give just one hundred dollars between February 6th and 17th to help carry on the work during 1919.

Larger Cities To Raise Bulk Of Y. W. C. A. Fund.

The Young Women's Christian Association campaign to raise $100,000 in each Georgia county with which to continue and develop their regular work comes as something of a relief after the many campaigns where a single person of moderate means was expected to give almost that much. They are asking for that sum to aid in the work of the association, and Atlanta, Macon, Savannah, Augusta and Columbus are to raise all except the hundred dollars from each of the other counties.

This money will be used in the general work of the association, and in that work the outside counties participate quite as much as do the counties where the local associations are located. The money the "Y. W." received during the United War Work drive was to be used for war work only, and no part of it is available for any other kind of work.

It is also a fact that all of this money is needed for the purpose for which it was raised, even though the war is over. The Hostess Houses at all camps are being kept open, and will be so long as there are troops in the camps. Work among the troops abroad is being pushed even more vigorously than while the actual fighting was in progress, for the reason that the soldiers have more time and constantly greater need of recreation and amusements.

"Y. W." Will Extend Work.

It is the intention of the Young Women's Christian Association to extend the work it has been doing in the larger cities to the smaller towns just as rapidly as possible. The war work that the organization has done will make it comparatively easy to do this, as a very large number of people have come into contact with "Y. W." work through the Hostess Houses at the various army camps and have found that the Blue Triangle is always an emblem of practical efficient service. A very large part of the $100,000 each Georgia county is being asked to contribute between February 6th and 17th will be used for this extension work, and will go directly back to the counties subscribing it.

FOR THE CHILDREN

Too much care cannot be exercised in selecting a cough medicine for children. It should be pleasant to take, harmless, and should be most effective in curing their coughs and colds. Long experience has shown that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy meets these conditions. It is a favorite with many mothers.

CONNECTICUT SENATE DECLINES TO RATIFY

IS FIRST STATE GOING ON RECORD AS OPPOSED TO NATIONAL PROHIBITION.

Hartford, Conn., Feb. 4.—Connecticut through the action of its Senate today, is the first state to decline to ratify the federal prohibition amendment. Forty-four states through their legislatures have voted for ratification.

It is believed that Senate action definitely determines the attitude of this state, although the House of Representatives is expected to vote to ratify by a large margin.

Legislative leaders, however, give no expression of opinion which would lead to belief that the Senate would do other than adhere to its action should the matter come before it again.

The first twelve articles of amendments to the constitution were not ratified by this state, nor was the sixteenth amendment which relates to income tax.

MONTANA MAN GETTING OVER HIS LIFELONG TROUBLE

HAD SUFFERED SINCE HE WAS A SMALL BOY—DECLARES TALLAC HAS DONE HIM A WHOLE WORLD OF GOOD.

"I remember when I was a small boy how I suffered with my stomach," said William Preece, a well known minor living at 133 Wing Street, Butte, Montana, recently. "It just troubled me constantly and as I grew older the trouble got worse."

"Soon as a meal, gone would form in my stomach making it feel as hard as a rock. The pain would be terrible and would make me feel for days at a time. During these attacks I would have to lay off from work for several days. I was constantly belching up undigested food and no matter what I'd eat I suffered from heartburn. I got so I could hardly sleep at all, would just roll and toss all night long in agony."

"Then I read about Tanlac in the papers and got a bottle and started taking it. It was not long until I began to feel a whole lot better. I have taken three bottles so far and from the way I have improved so far, it won't be long before my trouble is a thing of the past. I can work regular every day now, my stomach doesn't trouble me like it did, my appetite is better and though I haven't weighed, I know I'm getting heavier. I have come to recommend Tanlac, for it has done me a whole world of good. Tanlac is sold in Statesboro by W. H. Ellis Drug Co."

FLOATING MINES TO BE MENACE FOR 20 YEARS

Paris, France, Feb. 1.—Floating mines will menace ships in the Atlantic for twenty years.

The Gulf stream is carrying them along the coast of Europe and among the Atlantic Islands.

This is the assertion of the prince of Monaco, who has made a study of the subject for the Academy of Sciences.

The prince of Monaco is one of the scientific authorities of the world. In the last fifteen years, he has made a number of voyages to investigate deep-sea life and sea currents. His library is one of the most complete, and his laboratories have been the source of many scientific discoveries.

He has seen service in the Spanish navy and in the French navy. "The mines which drifted away from the Gulf of Gascogne and the coasts of Portugal and the United States will drift for a long time between Europe and the United States," says the prince.

The objects floating in the English channel are being drawn toward the occidental opening, where they will concentrate, and the prince says that the current will carry them toward the channel, passing by way of Bermuda, the Azores and Madeira. This circuit will take four years.

"Ships from the United States to Europe should take a route which passes north of the line beginning at the entry of the channel to 50 degrees latitude north and follow this line to 30 degrees longitude west, to incline towards the banks of Newfoundland."

"Traffic between the United States and Europe will be in the greatest danger near the European coasts and the Atlantic Islands. On the other hand, it will find the greatest security by running north of Madeira to the limit of the Saragossa sea."

BINDS WOMAN AS ACCESSORY WHO KNOWS NOTHING OF INTENDED MURDER.

Atlanta, Feb. 1.—If an unmarried woman has a "love affair" with a married man, and "telephones that married man at his home, and she knows nothing of the killing, the woman is an accessory before the fact."

This is the decision rendered yesterday afternoon by Recorder Johnson, of the city of Atlanta, in holding for the grand jury Mary Powers, "the other woman" in the case of the killing of Johnny Abbott. She was on trial in the recorder's court on a blanket charge of "disorderly conduct."

Testimony of Mrs. Abbott, who killed her husband, was that there was nothing disorderly in the conversation which occurred between herself and Mary Powers, but that Powers asserted she never would have shot her husband but for that telephone conversation.

Attorneys for Mary Powers argued to the court that, before one could be held as an accessory in a murder charge, it must be shown that there was collusion. In this case they argued no collusion had been or could be shown, that their client knew nothing of the killing until awakened at her apartment by the policemen some hours after Abbott had been killed and she, therefore, is not in the position of an accessory before or after the fact as contemplated by law. The court, however, held that the telephone conversation was the immediate cause of the shooting and for that reason, and on the testimony of the wife, he would hold her for the grand jury.

She has been released on a bond of $500.

TOBACCO GROWING IN COFFEE.

An interesting article concerning the growth of the tobacco industry in Coffee county will be found in our column today.

The article is not given space so much as a boost for our sister county as an inspiration to our own people. Bulloch county and Coffee county are very much alike in many respects. Farming conditions are almost identical in both. The soils and crops are very similar, and the people are almost the same. What, therefore, is being done in Coffee is of interest to the people in Bulloch.

From time to time during the past winter this paper has taken occasion to recommend that the farmers of Bulloch give thought to the change from all-cotton to a trial of tobacco. A number of articles were published, and a very generous offer was made by one enterprising citizen to provide the seed free to those who were minded to engage in the cultivation of the crop. So far as we are aware, no one took up the offer, though we are informed that a number of farmers in the Sinkhole district are preparing to plant some tobacco. Our information is that, under the direction of Mr. E. L. Anderson, who spent several years in the tobacco-growing section of the Carolinas, some forty-odd farmers will plant small acreages. This is a beginning which should bear fruit.

UNIQUE COMPLICITY.

The Atlanta recorder who bound over the lady lover of the handsome young Atlanta fireman, recently slain by his wife because of jealousy, has certainly brought out a new idea in charging the woman with being "accessory before the fact."

From surrounding circumstances, it seems that the woman had called the young man over the phone and the wife intercepted the conversation. Demanding to know who it was talking, she was not given any satisfaction. Words followed with her husband and she slew him in a jealous rage. She had not intimated her intention to do this to the woman at the other end of the line, and certainly the woman did not consent to it. Rather, she would have bent her energies to prevent the killing, if anything. But the Atlanta recorder holds her as "accessory before the fact." A rather unique complicity, we should say.

Meanwhile, the wife who slew her husband is seeking release from the charge of murder, and will eventually be cleared. There is no law which gives her permission to slay because of unfaithfulness; but the unwritten law stands to her credit. Men slay their faithless wives under the same conditions, and hang for it. They slay the men who come between them and their wives, and are acquitted. This Atlanta woman's case is a little different, in that she slew her husband instead of her paramour; yet she will be acquitted in the courts.

And while the woman who stole her husband's love is being tried for his death, it will be interesting to note who is held for the killing of that other woman who committed suicide upon his grave a few days later. The Atlanta recorder will probably be able to figure out who is "accessory before the fact" in that case.

Vinol Creates Strength

COFFEE COUNTY STRONG ON TOBACCO GROWING

DRIVEN OUT OF COTTON BUSINESS BY WEEVIL SHE TRUSTS TO TOBACCO.

(Augusta Herald.)

Coffee is one of the counties in Georgia that has been smitten by the boll weevil but it doesn't show any scars. Fact is that Coffee shows signs of coming out of the boll weevil contest with flying colors. There is lots of fine land in Coffee, and cotton grows there very rank, both long staple Sea Island and short staple upland. Consequently when the boll weevil hit Coffee he had a picnic. But the picnic was of short duration.

Coffee whirled in on tobacco strong. She grows large quantities of corn and velvet beans, and with the additional tobacco acreage planted, the remaining acreage devoted to cotton was almost isolated. The result was when the boll weevil cleaned up a cotton patch he was at his wits end. He was fat and rosy on the face where he had been living but his grub had given out. It takes the fine silky fiber of the cotton plant to satisfy the delicate appetite of the boll weevil, and tobacco and corn do not possess this. So the boll weevil found himself confronted by a condition and not a theory.

This was the starting of the tobacco industry in Coffee and now warehouses have been built in Douglas, and it is said that the tobacco acreage will be tenfold greater the coming year than last. B. H. Tanner, grower in more than 200 acres, Oliver Peterson will plant 100 acres. Almost all of the smaller farmers will double and triple their tobacco acreage for the coming season, for they have found that there is more money in tobacco than in cotton, without regard to the boll weevil, but thanks to him for teaching them. The big tobacco companies now have their agents on the ground distributing free seed and when the harvest comes they will come back and distribute money for the crop.

It is now up and tuck between tobacco and livestock to see which will become the staple product of Coffee. Formerly lumber was its chief industry, and there are now half a dozen lumber kings in the county worth over half a million. But when the timber was cut down these gentlemen went to farming the cutover ground. In addition to this, there are many swamps of large area and jungle density in the county which are splendidly adapted to raising hogs and cattle. Douglas is one of the biggest and best livestock markets in Georgia.

Situated on the Georgia & Florida Railroad, about midway between Augusta and Valdosta, Douglas is one of the largest shipping points as well as the most flourishing towns on the road. Equidistant between Savannah and Brunswick, Douglas checks ocean freights, while the Georgia & Florida affords her an outlet to the east via Augusta. She has become the distributing point for the extensive and rich territory surrounding. With high priced tobacco and livestock added to her list of products she now bids fair to rival such cities as Valdosta, Waycross and Dublin.

10 BABY FARMS TO BE SOLD

Mr. Editor:
Many strange things occur in this world of ours. Some I have seen and witnessed, and some I have read of. During the civil war—the war between the states—my brother and I volunteered and joined the Confederate army to help defend southern rights, which every true southerner conceded to be a righteous cause. I never believed in conscription, as it sounds too much like conviction. A conscript is a little like a convict, as he is forced into measures. We served during the entire war against the northern hordes who invaded and pillaged our homes, killing and committing other crimes. These are things to be remembered by us old folks who lived and witnessed them.

But now a turn has taken place, which seems a little strange. I have four grandsons in France and one in the navy. I also have two grand-nephews in France. All have been on the front, side by side of the descendants of Gen. Sherman and "Beast" Butler, as he is called in account of his cruelty, and other generals of the northern army, who were once our enemies.

These sons and nephews of mine all volunteered—not a conscript in the bunch. It is a strange fact that hundreds of thousands of our southern boys volunteered and went to Europe and fought side by side of the descendants of those who were once our foes. This they did to oust German autocracy and establish democracy for the world.

And history tells us there was a time when England owned and dominated these American colonies—now states—and placed heavy burdens on them, which resulted in a seven-year war, the result of which being that America came out victorious and a democratic government was established. England and America were hostile enemies for several years. But now when England entered the war with Germany, America sent over her millions of choice boys to assist her in defeating Germany, and fought side by side with the descendants of their revolutionary sires. The two countries are now the best of friends.

"God moves in a mysterious way, His wonders to perform." It is said that our American boys fought with such valor as to win the admiration of the world.

Yes, strange things take place in this old world of ours.

Respectfully,
B. W. DARSEY.

A SINGLE MONEY CREST FOR ALLIES

SUGGESTED TO PARIS MEET THAT INDEMNITY FUND BE PUT IN COMMON POOL.

Paris, Feb. 3.—Proposals of the establishment of a single financial front for the allies have been submitted to the entente ministers here by Signor Crespi, member of the Italian delegation according to a statement made by him today.

After saying that the central powers must compensate the allies for the damage suffered during the war, Signor Crespi said:

"On the other hand, all the allies have suffered immense losses and they must all benefit from the indemnities which the enemy is to pay. Each one should receive in proportion to the effort he has made. Thus smaller states that have spent more than large ones in comparison to their wealth ought to receive larger indemnities in proportion. Absolute fairness ought to be preserved in the division of indemnities."

"The simplest way to carry out the actual distribution will be to put the entire fund into a common pool which could be periodically apportioned among the different nations. The fund should be augmented by taxes of a universal character levied on all states, enemy, allied or neutral, the last named having benefited from the sacrifices made by the allies."

"Such taxes might be levied on exports and imports and also on coal and raw materials. It seems to me only fair that countries which have benefited and even grown rich through the suffering and sacrifice of the allies should be made to help compensate the allies. Such taxes would not weigh more heavily on one state than on another, since it would be universal. It would merely have the effect of raising prices on some certain particular products in all countries alike."

"The enemy should be forced to pay off as soon as possible the allies' debts. The international tax would furnish interest on the rest and a sinking fund for paying it off eventually. In my opinion, the enemy ought to be allowed to pay, not only in gold, but in raw materials and finished products. Part of their debt might be covered by bonds, which they would take up gradually in exchange for goods delivered to the allies."

"The supply of raw materials is another important question to be considered. If they are furnished to enemy countries at the same time and at the same prices as to allies the Austrians and Germans whose industries have not been destroyed and who are ready to return to a peace basis in their production more rapidly than the allies, would reach foreign markets quicker and in better condition than would be possible for the allies. This we must avoid at all costs. I, therefore, propose that distribution of raw materials be internationally controlled in such a way that allied countries may be served before enemy countries."

"Another important question involved is the length of the working day. A day's labor in Germany before the war was very long. If it continues so now, they will be able to produce more cheaply than we can. Therefore, international laws on this question have become essential."
